William Farrell, aged 32, an accomplished swimmer and diver, dived from a 50-toot elevation into the Connecticut river at Hartford, Conn., Sunday. He had repatiedly performed the feat, but Sunday wared in the air and struck on his back. He sunk after a few struggles. The body was recovered half an hour later. The whole back was blackened by the force of the blow.

An army of caterpillars struck the New Brusswick railway, Thursday, below Fredericton, extending for a distance of about a mile and rendering the rails so dispery that the wheels of the locomotives and cars went around without any progress being made. The appearance of these pests so early in the season indicates, it is feared, another such a plague as that of trelve years ago and which gave every-body much trouble and annoyance.

The village of Fesloe Mislye, Hungary, has been destroyed by five during a terribig gale of wind. Sparks from a locomotive lighted on a thatched roof, which caught five. The wind fanned the blaze, and in less than 10 minutes 60 houses were burning, and in half an hour the whole village was in fiames. Ten aged and ill people were killed and 40 injured. Several children are missing. Dozens of cattle were roasted alive, and 1000 people are homeless and penniless.

Dr. Wm. W. Ray and Frank H. Weston fought a duel with revolvers in the principal street in Columbia, S. C., at 6 o'clock, Thursday night. Both are prominent men and members of the best society. They are first cousins but recently had a misunderstanding about a personal matter. They met in the street last evening, drew revolvers and began firing. Walking into the middle of the street they selzed each other by the arm and fired until both weapons were empty. Dr. Ray was shot in the temple, and Weston through the left breast and in the thigh. His woulds are not dangerous.

A cloud burst across the Ohlo river 30 miles above Parkersburg, W. Va., Saturday night, reaching to Wheeling. It washed out railroads, destroyed fences and crope, and carried off many thousand doliars worth of timber and other property. Trains on the Ohlo River railroad were detained by breaks and wash-outs near Belmont. From above Belmont the track of the storm ran across the state, crossing the Baltimore & Ohlo railroad near Central, where it cut that road in two places, making wide gaps and detaining trains. Reports of damage are coming in from all along the track of the storm, stating that many thousand dollars' worth of property was destroyed and crops ruined.

A tornado struck Earlville, Ill., Friday afternoon. A school house was destroyed, six children and the teacher killed. The storm passed in a northeasterly direction sweeping houses and everything else before it, killing eight persons. Bridges are gone, reads impassable and the means of communication difficult. At Sublett, same state, the tornado traveled about 10 miles and bewed out a path about half a mile wide. Ten houses were blown into atoms at Sublett. Ten lives are reported lost and hunges of people injured. A schoolhouse north of this place containing 25 children, was blown down and all were found bruised and bleeding in the debris. The New York express was wrecked at 20 clock Widterners or 6 failty state.

The New York express was wrecked at 20 clock, Friday morning, at Child's Station on the Philadelphia division of the Saltmore & Ohio railroad. The driving rod of the engine broke, spreading the rails. Bishop Keane of the Catholic University at Washington, and Harry E. Kelly, son of Ex-Congressman Kelly, of Arkanass, were among those seriously hurt, two sleepers were thrown down an embankment. John McNamara of New York, the fireman, was killed and Charles McKenheir, chief eagineer, of Staten Island, was so severely blured that he died of his injuries before he could be carried to Philadelphia. Bishop Keane was cut about the head and his body badly bruised. Ralph Ingalis, son of United States Senator Ingalis, is among those slightly injured, of whom there are several. The train was running at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident. Part of the rod got under the last two sleepers, overturning them and whirling them down an embankment with the consequences already stated.

Wildes of this city, who closed a most profitable and interesting term of eight weeks' school in the Campbell's Pond District at West Bath, June 19th, which was her second term of school in this district, and her third term in the town, in each of which Miss Wildes has given excellent satisfaction to parents and pupils. Notwithstanding the teacher was surprised to see to large a company assembling at her boarding house, she was perfectly calm, and received her guests with a degree of courtesy that was charming to behold. Games and plays, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, were among the many attractions of the evening's entertainment. Miss Lillian Brown played the violia, exhibiting much skill and practice on the instrument, which was highly complimented by the lady's enthusiastic admirers, solilowed by Mrs. Clifford, the hostess, who say several solos in a clear, sweet voice, which added materially to the interest of he hour, Albion Holbrook playing the accompaniment on the banjo in a most acceptable manner. At the conclusion of the evening's exercises the company were invited into the large and brilliantly lighted dining hall, and partook of a bountful regard, to which all did ample justice. The company wish to publicly thank Mr. and Mrs. Clifford, through whose kindness they emjoyed an evening of unalloyed pleasure.

"In the summer of 1884 I was sent to the Annapolis hospital, suffering with chronic cliarrhea. While there, I became so reduced in strength that I could not speak and was compelled to write everything I wanted to say. I was then having some 25 or 28 sloois per day. The doctors ordered a medicine that I was satisfied would be of no benefit to me. I did not take it, but persuaded my nurse to get me some of Dr., Ayer's Pills. About two c'elock in the afternoon I took six of these pills, and by midnight began to feel better. In the morning the doctors came again, and after deckding that my symptoms were more favorable, gave me a different medicine, which I did not use, but took four more of the pills instead. The next day the doctors came to see me, and thought I was doing nicely, (and so did I). I then took one pill a day for a week. At the end of that time, I considered myself cured and that Ayer's Pills had saved my life. I was then weak, but had no return of the disease, and gained in strength as fast as could be expected."—F. sheep thrive on a fresh range and especially on newly seeded grasses. They never downlin old pastures, particularly where they have been closely fed by sheep for faccessive years. They want pastures new and fresh. Hence there is great advantage from rotation. While sheep are good for the land and land is good for sheep, the two do not want to go together many seasons in succession. The best work with sheep is done where the plow is made to follow the pastures are always fresh and the grasses are always from recent seeding. So, too, the droppings of the sheep scattered over the surface are husbanded to the utmost advantage by thus mixing with the soil. lack-lot sheep husbandry may be good in laplace, but is not best for the home farm.
